Subject's extra information

The subject "History of artistic and building techniques" aims to provide the minimum theoretical knowledge for the understanding of the most common artistic and building techniques in Western European heritage. A review of the main pictorial, sculptural and construction techniques will be made and the personal activity of the students will be encouraged so that they complement the contents in an autonomous way, with the execution of works and deepening exercises.

Learning objectives

- To know the different languages and artistic techniques used by mankind throughout history.
- To acquire a wide and transversal knowledge of the different artistic and constructive techniques.
- To know the different materials and tools involved in artistic creation and to understand the technical procedures involved.
- To value the technical limitations that characterize each artistic and material typology in a critical way in the evolution of art history.
- To develop a good level of understanding and expression of the artistic vocabulary and artistic and constructive techniques.
- To train students to introduce them to the qualitative and critical analysis of cultural assets.
- To develop skills for the comprehensive reading of texts and documentary and bibliographic sources on art.

Methodology

- Theoretical and practical classes (in a physical or virtual classroom according to current regulations) with explanations accompanied by presentations summarizing the contents and skills to be achieved. Presentation of the materials with the support of various resources (real material - tools, materials, test tubes -, photographs, videos, reports, on-line resources, etc.) Interest in visualizing real cases to facilitate the understanding of the contents and in different typologies and formats of works (from prehistory to contemporary art).

- Practical exercise for the application of some techniques explained in a theoretical way during the course and that facilitates the learning and understanding of the concepts. All participants must develop and present a final report on their performance.

- Methodology workshop: practical sessions that will be given for the practical work and development of fundamental questions related to various art history competencies. Details of this activity will be given on the first day of class.

- Deepening work on the history of artistic techniques will be given in the form of a scientific article and should also include an oral presentation. Details of this activity will be given on the first day of class.

- Mandatory reading of sources and artistic treatises. The reading of "Il libro dell'arte" by Cennino Cennini and "De Architectura" by Vitrubio will be compulsory to follow the course. There will be a reading test to evaluate the acquisition and learning of the concepts.

- Tutoring and personalised attention: sessions aimed at the complementary training of students, especially focused on in-depth work or the resolution of doubts. Tutorials will be previously arranged by e-mail to the teacher (aleix.barbera@udl.cat).

- Development of two written tests to monitor learning and evaluate the content achieved.

The different activities planned during the course of the course have the following forecast of work dedication by the students in working hours (presential and non presential):

Activity	HP*	HNP
On-site classes	25	20
Synchronous virtual classes	25	20
Pigments exercise	1,5	10
Methodology workshop	5	0
Deepening work	1,5	25
Reading	0	15
Tutoring	voluntari
Tests	2
TOTAL HOURS	60	90

* Presencial hours

 Non presencial hours

Development plan

In-depth work: details of the subject matter, format and delivery will be specified during the course.

Pigment exercise: details on the subject matter, format and delivery will be specified during the course.

Methodology workshop: on the first day of the course, timetables and classrooms will be detailed for follow-up.

Written tests: on the first day of the course, timetables and classrooms will be detailed for follow-up.

Evaluation

As a general rule and in accordance with the UdL Evaluation Regulations, evaluation is continuous, based on the student's personal work and attendance at the face-to-face sessions and responds to the following criteria and evaluation instruments.

EVALUATION SYSTEM	DESCRIPTION	% FINAL GRADE
-------------------	-------------	---------------

Test 1	Written test on the contents reached during the first didactic units.	25%
Test 2	Written test on the contents reached during the last didactic units.	25%
Methodology workshop	Attendance and participation in the seminar and report writing	10%
Pigments exercise	Documentary synthesis in a summary sheet about the most relevant data of two pigments or colorants.	10%
Deepening work	Written and oral presentation of the deepening work according to the criteria that will be marked at the beginning of the course.	15%
Reading	Test to evaluate the consolidation of the contents during the reading of the obligatory books of the subject.	10%
Attendance	Assessment of attendance and active participation in the theoretical and practical sessions and visits.	5%

- Each exercise, work or test will be assessed from 0 to 10 points. In order to be able to average out the other activities, at least a score of 3.5 must have been achieved.

- Failure to hand in the exercises or work within the agreed deadlines will also result in the loss of points in this section.

- In application of the UdL evaluation regulations, given that the exams have a value of less than 30% there is no recovery.

IMPORTANT: If the teacher detects plagiarism or copying in any of the different parts to be evaluated, according to the rules of evaluation of the UdL, that part will be marked with a 0.

Students who combine their degree with a part-time job or a full time job have the right to ask for alternative assessment within 5 days after the beginning of the semester. For information, please send an e-mail to academic@lletres.udl.cat or ask for information at the Faculty's office (Secretaria de la Facultat de Lletres).
