Methodology

The course will use a methodology appropriate to the semi-presencial classes determined by COVID-19. 4 hours of class: 2 virtual hours and 2 face-to-face hours.

In face-to-face classes, we will work about the skills related to the actual practice of the classroom of the textual typologies determined in the subject contents are worked on.

In online hours, we will work about theoretical concepts of the subject are worked on, using methodologies such as the Flipped classroom and other methodologies more expository methodologies.

If the subject was totally face-to-face, we would use the following methodology:

In this subject, master classes, group and individual tutoring, practical practices and group work are combined in face-to-face classes; in reading texts and in individual and group outings, in non-contact sessions.

Following the percentages designed for this subject, and taking into account that 7 ECTS equals 175 hours of work for a total work, they can be divided as follows:

70 face-to-face hours (40% of the subject):

- 15% master classes: 26,25 hours
- 10% tutoring: 17,5 hours
- 15% practices: 26,25 hours

105 non-presentials hours (60% of the subject):

- 45% individual study: 78,75 hours
- 15% group study: 26,25 hours

About distribution of the sessions, the same professor is responsible for sessions of the large group and the small group, if there are any. Small groups cannot be simultaneous.

Evaluate the attention, participation and interest of the students in the subject. Explain the contents. Guide the learning process. Solve doubts. Evaluate the teaching task.	Attend class. Attend explanations. Take notes. Ask questions. Relate previous knowledge to new. Consult and expand the bibliography. Study and carry out tasks prepared by the professors. Evaluate the learning process and take the appropriate decisions to improve it.

Evaluation

Each unit of this subject will have a different percentage of evaluation, and this percentage will be proportional to its presence in number of credits and therefore of class hours.

Evaluation of Unit 1 (Didactics): 40% of the final grade

In order to evaluate the students, the following instruments will be used and the percentages shown will be applied:

- Dramatization of poems (30%) and justification of it
- Theatrical texts writing (20%) and justification of it
- Reflection on teaching of orthography (20%)
- Written exam (30%).

The realization of the programmed practices and the reading guide of one of the two planned reading works will be included within a document called "Learning Notebook". This notebook will be presented virtually.

Evaluation of Unit 2 (Language): 60% of the final grade

- Written test (final exam): 40%
- Report (review): 30%
- Practices and exercises: 20%
- Attendance, attitude, participation and critical spirit: 10%

For each unit, different test (written and oral), specified in the schedule of the subject, will do.

The final grade of this subject results from the partial grades with their corresponding percentage. The cut mark to pass the final evaluation is 5, although each of the two parts or Units must be approved. In case of obtaining a lower grade and having passed any of partial tests, the partial marks will be saved for the next course, so only the unsuccessful tests will have to be repeated.

This subject does not have a global recovery, only written tests or course assignments that alone exceed 30% of the grade of one of the Units, in accordance with the general evaluation regulations of the University.

Each practice and the written test must have a good level of language correction. In order to pass each practice and the written test, no more than 5 spelling or normative errors may be committed.

NOTE: Students who combine their studies with a full-time job have the right, according to current regulations, to request an alternative evaluation within 5 days from the beginning of the semester. Please contact with Faculty Secretary for more information.
