Methodology

The methodology of the subject "Theory, History and Educational Contexts" will be based on the pedagogical approach called challenge-based learning (CBL). In this way, it will be necessary to establish an interaction between the academic study of the educational phenomenon from a historical perspective and the practical application of the studied contents. Thus, it will seek to bring the work done during the classes to real applications, encouraging the acquisition of the competences of this subject with active, team and specific work.

The main objectives that are achieved with this learning methodology are:

- Significantly improve the classroom work environment.
- To improve the educational attention to each student, in function of his capacities, of his style of learning, etc.
- Turn the classroom into an active workspace for everyone.
- Encourage creativity and critical thinking.

For the 2023-2024 academic year, students in this subject will have a manual with the basic contents of the subject. This manual will be mandatory as not only will readings, but it will allow to expand the knowledge with activities that are suggested in addition to additional documentation of interest.

Evaluation

Ordinary evaluation:

The subject Theory, History and Educational Contexts is divided into two thematic blocks linked to two different areas of knowledge. Each of the blocks has a teacher who specializes in the content taught and has different assessments. These blocks and their evaluation systems are:

- Theory and History of Education (THE): students will have to carry out two assessment tests during the course of the teaching which will be used to assess the acquisition of the skills established in the subject. The first has a value of 35% and the second a value of 40% of the final mark of the subject. A minimum of 5 points is required to pass this part. These evidences are both recoverable. In case of recovery, the maximum grade will be 5.
- Didactics and School Organization (DOE): students will have to take a single exam that will assess the acquisition of the content seen throughout the DOE block. The grade of the DOE block has a value of 25% on the final grade of the subject. It is a requirement to pass this part to get a minimum of 5. In the event of not passing the test, the student may take a make-up test.

To pass the subject, the final mark of the subject must be equal to or higher than 5. To be able to pass, each student must have a minimum of 5 in both blocks. If this requirement is not met, the student will be considered to have failed the subject.

THE DELIVERY OF THE ACTIVITIES WILL BE CARRIED OUT VIA SAKAI VIRTUAL CAMPUS AND IN THE ACTIVITIES SECTION. WORKS OUTSIDE THIS SECTION OF SAKAI ARE NOT ADMITTED. ALL WORKS MUST BE DELIVERED ONLINE AND THE FILE WILL BE IDENTIFIED WITH THE NAME AND SURNAMES OF THE AUTHOR(S).

Exercises that are not self-made will not be accepted: the reference bibliography, both published by traditional methods and accessible via the internet, must serve as a basis and not be copied verbatim, and must also be timely and conveniently referenced.

The evaluation of this subject will include the support measures provided by the UdLxTothom for students with NESE.

In the event of academic fraud or copying, the provisions of the Regulations for the evaluation and qualification of teaching in the degrees and master's degrees of the UdL will apply.

NEITHER THE FINAL GRADE OR WORKS WILL BE SAVED FOR FUTURE COURSES IF THE SUBJECT IS FAILED.

Alternative evaluation:

The student who cannot take the continuous assessment under justified circumstances has the right to waive the continuous assessment at the beginning of the semester and take the alternative assessment method. Regarding the subject of Theory, History and Educational Contexts, the alternative assessment is based on three evaluative evidences. To take up this option, interested students must submit an application to the Secretariat within the set deadline and provide supporting documentation of work activity and/or other personal situations.

The alternative evaluation modality includes:

- Theory and History of Education (THE): Written test on the contents of the subject (60%) and an individual work on a pedagogical figure of the 20th century (15%). The work carried out in the development of the subject will always incorporate a bibliography with a minimum of ten documents that come from books and/or scientific journals.
- Didactics and School Organization (DOE): Test-type test with a value of 25% on the grade of the subject.

It is a requirement to pass this part to get a minimum of 5. In the event of not passing the test, the student may take a make-up test.
