Learning objectives

The student must have acquired a solid knowledge of the characteristics of the different modalities of literary creation in the Spanish language, as well as the approaches to its main themes through its formal and historical-cultural analysis. You must know and be able to analyze the literary currents and the main works of Spanish and Latin American literature. You must also know the textual editing process from a philological point of view.

The course aims to provide an overview of publishing processes taking into account the peculiarities and demands of the publishing industry and especially considering the role of philology, especially in the field of literary publishing. With this aim, the program of the subject combines theoretical sessions with practices and individual and group activities, inside and outside the classroom, oriented to the realization of a final practical work in which will carry out the edition of a literary text.

Competences

Cross-cutting competences:

CT1 Acquire adequate oral and written comprehension and expression of Catalan and Spanish.

CT3 Acquire training in the use of new technologies and information and communication technologies.
