Subject's extra information

This subject pursues the formation of the student of degree from the point of view of the communication in the academic scope; has, therefore, an instrumental and technical character that should result in the textual productions of any other subject or communicative exchange that is developed in the University and, later, in the professional world. In order to increase the communicative competence of the students, the theoretical training with the practice will be combined, seeking, through attention to specific genres, mastery of the most common types of text in the various oral channels.

Learning objectives

To know the aspects that determine and shape speech in any communication, and especially in the academic field.

Understand the nature and varieties of language, especially those determined by the communicative situation.

Know the language norm of Spanish.

Know the textual conventions of the academic genres: examination, work, review, debate, exhibition, etc.

To know the resources and the sources for the elaboration of texts.

Competences

Significant competences

General competences:

Improve communicative competence.

Achieve a good command of the Spanish language.

Methodology

Classes are held two days a week (3 hours) over fourteen weeks.

In the classroom classes will combine theory and practice. This last one will suppose approximately 50% of the subject. Practices in the classroom will be carried out mainly in small groups, in order to encourage and evaluate, as well as the creative capacity, to expose and argue, as well as to seek consensual solutions.

There will also be some activities in which the student works individually in the classroom or expose and argue the results of individual work outside the classroom.

The tasks that the student must complete in this subject are the following:

- A) Attending classes. When the teacher requires it, prepare beforehand some of the exercises and activities proposed for the classroom. Participate in classes.
- B) To study the subject explained by the teacher in class, applying the theory to practice and taking as a model the analysis done in the classroom or the content in the readings that are proposed.
- C) Perform in class the activities indicated: analysis and production of written and oral texts of various kinds.
- D) Go to established tutorials.
- E) Perform the evaluable tests required for the subject and submit to the final exam.

Evaluation

The overall grade of the subject will be calculated according to the following percentages. Each block will be scored according to a scale of 0 to 10, with 0 being the minimum grade and 10 being the maximum grade. These tests or the deliveries of exercises will not have another call except justified cause and certified in writing.

20%: Delivery of four evaluable practices or exercises.

15%. Proof of idiomatic correction

20%: Exposure / Argumentation Test

20%: Oral exposure test

25%: Final theoretical-practical exam the dates of the partial and the rest of the tests will be specified in the moment in the Resources section.

In the written activities that will be delivered for evaluation, the editing criteria indicated below must be followed. In the event that these criteria are not taken into account, the activity will not be evaluated and will not be taken into account in the final grade.

The criteria are the following:

The texts must be justified and typed in Times New Roman, size 12 and a space and a half. After and the full stop, the paragraphs will appear indented.

If the student, for any justified reason, can not follow this continuous assessment program, he / she must contact the teacher at the beginning of the course, before the first two weeks of classes, so that the evaluation can be adjusted to his / her circumstances.

Bibliography

El libro del español correcto. Claves para hablar y escribir bien en español, Instituto Cervantes, Madrid, Espasa, 2012.

It is the manual of the subject, in which the student will find the theoretical content of the program as well as exercises to perform in class or on his own.

CASADO, M., El castellano actual: Usos y normas, Pamplona, Eunsa, 2005, 8ª ed.

It is a guide that offers a wide range of language issues that affect our use of language daily: accentuation and punctuation rules, plural formation, problems arising from the use of pronouns, numerals, the verb, the prepositions, as well as the syntax of the sentence.
