Individual development of a topic

Development plan

The development of the subject will combine face-to-face sessions, the virtual campus video conferencing tool and a set of practical activities adaptable to the situation of the pandemic.

The presentation of each of the topics will involve the contribution of the experiences of the students and a set of reflections -individual or collective- on the contents exposed.

Evaluation

The evaluation will be based on three main elements:

- Delivery of small works, individual or in group, related with each one of the subjects of the asignatura
- comments on different graphic materials (photographs, films, writings, etc.)
- an individual reflection, documented bibliographically.

A small group work for each topic will be justifiably evaluated by the students.

The percentages on the total of the note are as follows:

Co-evaluation of group work (25%)

Oral presentations of group work (25%)

Comments and small individual works (25%)

Individual and documented written reflection (25%)

To pass the subject, you must pass each part of the assessment.

The allocation of ECTS credits is indicative and variations of up to 20% can occur.
