Methodology

The theoretical classes, lasting 2 hours a week, will follow the flipped classroom model in which the students will attend after having done a previous work with materials made available to them on the virtual campus. In these sessions, any doubts that may have arisen during self-employment will be resolved, and discussions and / or activities of a practical nature will be held.

In the practical classes, real constitutional cases will be recreated, assuming the students, working in groups, different roles.

Evaluation

A) Continuous evaluation:

It is the normal evaluation system of the subject. This evaluation will consist of four compulsory tests: two exams and two practicals.

1. Exams:

They will consist of a test of 20 questions with four answer options and only one of them correct. Each correct answer will add 0.5 points and each incorrect answer will subtract 0.15.

Each exam will account for 25% of the final evaluation.

The completion time will be 60 minutes.

2. Practices:

The practices will be carried out in groups according to the methodology set out in the respective section of this guide, following the indications offered during the classes in medium groups and on the virtual campus. Each of the deliveries will be scored from 0 to 10, assessing both the delivery itself and the participation in the practical classes. The weight in the qualification of each of the practice is 25% of the final qualification.

B) Single evaluation

Students who, in accordance with University regulations, have the right to a single assessment, must request it from the responsible professor within a month from the start of classes.

The exam, on the entire syllabus, will have two parts: the first will consist of a 5-question test with four answer options and one correct, in which it will be necessary to justify why the chosen option is correct and the others incorrect; the second will consist of the comment of an extract of the sentence.

This exam is recoverable in accordance with the regulations of the University.

Fraudulent means in the evaluation tests and in the performance of work:

In accordance with art. 3.1 of the UdL assessment regulations, the student may not use, in any case, during the assessment tests, unauthorized means or fraudulent mechanisms. The student who uses any fraudulent means related to the test and / or carries unauthorized electronic devices, must abandon the exam or test, and will be subject to the consequences provided in this regulation or in any other internal regulation of the UdL.
